We went through several decks of these cards. The game is fun for the whole family. It didn’t take long before our son knew by heart just where every state was in relation to its neighbors. We’d sometimes change the rules slightly, say, to having to get 8 neighboring states. Eventually, everyone learns the tactic of keeping back some card so opponents can’t get a full set. I recommend this game to those who feel it is important to know where the states are located, and not just a list of names. You may have to invent a game with the cards to learn state capitols or state birds. Then again, oft times kids just pick up those things while playing the game.Ann Zeise

I love this game. It is so much fun and educational too. I used to play this when I was a young kid and then couldn’t find it for years. So glad I found this!!

I play this game with my kids at home and at the daycare. It is a great way to learn where the states are located, the state bird, flower, and capitol.
This is a really great game for all ages. Very fun and can be adjusted for different ages. This is a great learning tool.

Though they cautioned us that the box was not as pictured, they failed to mention that the art on the cards was different too. Boo, hiss.
